

SAL e PEPE

CONTEMPORARY ITALIAN BISTRO

Food For Thought

Thank You For Your Kind Words!

Truly scrumptious Italian food that is far from your stereotypical, everything in tomato sauce, Italian Restaurant. I always find something wonderful on the Specials Menu. The bread with the garlic/olive oil dip is simply fantastic!! There's parking in front and behind the restaurant. The restaurant includes a small bar area and a newly added front porch. The decor is warm and comfortable and you can feel equally at home dressed up or dressed casually.

JANUARY

January is named after Janus (Ianuarius), the god of the doorway; the name has its beginnings in Roman mythology, coming from the Latin word for door (ianua) – January is the door to the year. Traditionally, the original Roman calendar consisted of 10 months, totalling 304 days, winter being considered a monthless period. Around 713 BC, the semi-mythical successor of Romulus, King Numa Pompilius, is supposed to have added the months of January and February, allowing the calendar to equal a standard lunar year (355 days). Although March was originally the first month in the old Roman Calendar, January became the first month of the calendar year either under Numa or under the Decemvirs about 450 BC (Roman writers differ).

New Year's Resolutions

It is a time of resolutions. Let's resolve to no longer make resolutions! The following are some alternative affirmations for a new year.

- I assume full responsibility for my actions, except the ones that are someone else's fault.
- In some cultures what I do would be considered normal.
- I need not suffer in silence while I can still moan, whimper, and complain.
- I am at one with my duality.
- Blessed are the flexible, for they can tie themselves in knots.
- A scapegoat is almost as good as a solution.
- Just for today, I will not sit in my living room on the computer all day in my underwear. Instead, I will move my computer into the bedroom.
- I will no longer waste my time reliving the past; I will spend it worrying about the future!
- The complete lack of evidence is the surest proof that the conspiracy is working.

WIND CHILL

Wind chill temperature is the temperature as it feels to someone outside in the open, buffeted by strong winds that all too often accompany winter days. For example, if the actual temperature is 0 degrees F and the wind is blowing at 30 mph, someone out in the elements would feel as though the temperature were actually -26 degrees F.
